

DIVINE MESSAGE OF MARY

I cover you with my Coat

Dear sons and daughters of planet Earth. I like to come here always, I like to be heard, I love to show each one of you the immense size of my Love. My love encompasses this entire planet, I take it like a big ball that I put on my lap so that all that I feel also spreads in every corner in every person, in every animal, in every living being on this planet. My heart is celebrating. Why is he celebrating? Because the time is coming when all veils will fall, when all blockages will fall. Everything will be crystal clear. There will be nothing more to hide. Neither our presence, nor that of our Galactic brothers. Nothing, everything will be exposed. Everything will be true. There will be no lies, scams or deceit, because the light destroys everything that does not resonate with it. Only the truth, love, understanding, friendship, solidarity will be the intensified feelings on this planet and this phenomenon will be like a great pandemic, but not a sick pandemic. A pandemic of love, where everyone would go out laughing, kissing, looking at a brother as a brother and not as an enemy. Not like the one that could attack him. Those whose hearts are enlightened will receive this contamination of love and will reverberate this feeling in a way never felt before. You will reverberate that feeling for everyone on the planet. For the animals it will be such an immense feeling that it will not stay in their hearts. It will explode and contaminate more hearts. Those whose hearts are open, receptive, eager, for this moment will not regret anything they did, went through, felt to get to this moment. It has been a hard road for many. It has been made of challenges, suffering, pain, but I guarantee that in the end you will be grateful for every difficult moment that you have had, because these are the moments that you have made. It grows, evolves and reaches the point of vibrating only for love, nothing else matters. The only wish you will have will be to emanate love, it doesn't matter for whom; no matter what for; does not matter how. It only exudes love. Unfortunately at this point my heart is sad, my heart cries. Not all my children will do this. Not all my children will welcome us with open arms, because they will prefer to believe in everything physical in their World, out of fear, distrust, lack of faith, lack of love, and they will not accept anything. They will not experience this wave of love because they do not admit that everyone is the same, they do not admit that there are no arguments; They do not admit that there is no violence, taxes, subjugation, slavery. These unfortunately will receive my tears which I fill with so much love, that by touching their soul they will try to cleanse all that negative expression that exists in them. As if my tears were a remedy, a balm that by touching this soul can transform it into an enlightened soul full of love. This is my hope. My last try with them. But I am aware that I will be successful for some, but it is not for everyone. I wish that today I take all the inhabitants of the surface of this planet, wrap them in my mantle, and transform them into beings of the fifth dimension without exception. It would be a miraculous event and timetable in the Universe, but unfortunately I know I can't do it because the choice is yours, you have free will and it determines and defines your paths unfortunately not all of you will go to the fifth dimension. Those whose hearts remain closed dark black will have no place in the fifth dimension and will be lovingly taken to other orbs, to continue their journey of evolution and learning. It is not a punishment. Many believe that those who do not get up are punished. They are just reaping the rewards of their own decisions. There is no punishment. Free will exists. There is everyone's way of life. So my sons and daughters, those of you with a spark in your heart, never forget that I have a coat for everyone and that I can cover them instantly when they need it. Never doubt it, I am in the hearts of those who love me. I only make a request I do not want honors, I do not want veneration, I do not want adoration. I want you to remember me as your mother and this mother who is always with open arms, no matter what bad deeds her children have done. I am here waiting for each one of you with the cloak to cover you and bring you to your knees and make sure that you will be strong and able to overcome everything.

Always have love, trust and faith in your hearts that you are protected
