We are ready for freedom day

Dear brothers of this beautiful blue planet, I am Andromeda, I have permission to come here from time to time. First of all to express my gratitude, the gratitude to participate in this whole process, to participate in each victory, in each growth, in the evolution of this beautiful planet. We are ready to be the guardians of the Universe. We are always here, we are always there. We are always where we need to be. Each element of the Universe, no matter how simple you feel inferior, has its own function. Each soul that is created has a function, it will depend on the evolution of the soul to discover on its way how to do it, some never remember them because they simply refuse to be part of something great, perhaps. And it is these souls that are easily manipulated by those who involve them, showing them something apparently wonderful and then discovering that it is a great trap. I am very grateful to God the Father/Mother for never forgetting my role. I can't confuse function and mission here. My role is to be a guardian of the Universe, it is to be a soul that will always be ready to bring balance and bring light to all the points of the Universe that need it. Missions are those that are placed along the way. We were not born for one, we were born for many. So my soul has been navigating this Universe for eons of time, still fulfilling the function for which it was created, that is, to be a guardian. Being here, in the ascension process of this planet may seem like something you don't understand, something you think why fight for that you don't even know why expose yourself like this and I'm just saying that there is great pleasure in being on a mission. There is an immense joy in our hearts to be on a mission. Most of the time we are victorious, because most of the time, and not always, there are missions and "missions". The complex missions coordinated by the great beings of light of this universe are victorious missions. There has never been a lost battle, because these beings are the very expression of Father/Mother God and they know exactly how to act on each point, on each problem so that victory is certain. In the missions in which we are not victorious are those that are not coordinated by these beings. They are missions decided by ourselves. Out of our desire to change something we form a large group and go into battle, but we do not have the wisdom and experience of the Great Beings of Light and sometimes we are not victorious. So we have been here for a while for you. For us it is a short time. The linear time of planet Earth is very different from the time of the fifth dimension. We are here with great joy, with great glory, because once again we have emerged victorious. Now I would like to share with you our feeling, the feeling of the Galactic beings that are here around your planet operating in this great process. There has never been a moment of regret, even in these battles that have become very arduous, very difficult, long and exhausting, we have never lost hope and we have never been discouraged, because the confidence in the great protagonists of this process is so great that We don't allow ourselves to think of anything other than victory and it is exactly this feeling, that floods the hearts and minds of all who are here. This causes a wave of joy, of love that cannot be broken, which explains the many victories. So today the feeling of duty accomplished, my mission accomplished IS almost 100%. Why almost 100%? Because there is a cleaning to be done when we are dealing with beings that you do not see. That they are camouflaged on your planet in dimensions different from yours, it is easier for us to do our job because you do not see anything. It would cause you a lot of pain, a lot of apprehension and a lot of fear, because the battles have not been easy. At no time did we say that the battles were easy to win, but you did not see anything and that is great because it does not bring fear and does not generate mistrust. I would say that this brings doubts, because we talk, talk and talk and you don't see anything. I can tell you that some battles have gone beyond your planet. they went further in the sense that they reverberated in the physical world, but you didn't realize it. Everything seemed normal, it seemed another phenomenon of Gaia, so today what is missing 100% is to clean the physical heads of the planet. It is more difficult because many have the power to make extremely bad decisions towards their people, so everything must be done very carefully. We are not acting in the shadows, everything is already on the table. Their leaders know exactly what to do. They have a deadline to do it and they know exactly what will happen if they don't comply and they also know what will happen if they take action contrary to what we want. It is not that we are in the hands of their leaders, but they have to take the first step. Case we can not do anything until this happens. There is no way they can just ignore the whole process. All the rulers of this planet know what is happening, but some think that time is infinite. That they can continue to act as long as they want, that is, they think that they are the ones steering the ship and that we are there waiting for their action. We the soldiers of this great process do not know the dates, but the great leaders do know them and there are dates, there are deadlines for these leaders like in the games you play on the planet, turn off to see. I can only say that you will see why our leaders are not bluffing they are not lying they are just applying what they have already determined. Soon very soon you will meet them. We will be able to appear exactly as we are. There are an infinity of bodies, forms, colors, beings around your planet, and we will have the greatest pleasure and the greatest pride in presenting ourselves with our best clothes as if we were all going to a great party. Let's say we invite each other to your planet's liberation party and we will all be there, and on that day you will hear us clapping, for we will be delighted to clap for you, for you will be a liberated planet. That day you will have put an end to all submission, control or manipulation of any being over you. That day we will be able to shout it's over and a new stage will begin. A stage of opening awareness of knowledge but, above all, of hard work. You have dirty this planet too much and now you will have the mission to clean it. We'll be there with you to help you clean it up, giving you the tools, the technology to do it, but the one who will do the work is you. Each one of you will have to take your instruments, your tools, and clean up the planet. Each on their own point. And I imagine it will be quite a sight to see you all engaged in this purification. I like to come here from time to time as if I am the spokesman for the soldiers of those who are in combat. We do not feel inferior to the commanders. This feeling resonates with each other. We are part of everything that happens. We and our commanders are united: one thought, one goal, one result. So we have a voice. All we need is to want to talk and have someone to talk to, and I already found this way and I love coming here. It is as if each and every one of us sends a part of this message and I bring you together to speak with you. We have completed one more mission, a victorious mission. It is impossible to say no, even if we are not 100%, the victory is already achieved. There is very little time left before the cry of ultimate freedom and then when it does, it will be a unified cry of all galactics for your planet and we will surely applaud each one of you.
