

THE 9 LETTERS OF CHRIST CHRIST COMES BACK. REVEAL YOUR TRUTH. LETTER 9

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=984O4xr1_go

I, the CHRIST, have come through the Channel of these LETTERS because I cannot return in bodily form, or acquire human personality again, since I reside in, and am myself, in such fine and high vibratory frequencies of consciousness, and that no human physical form could contain my spiritual consciousness.

My only means of reaching you has been through the CHANNEL of a sensitive, clear-hearing, obedient and dedicated human being to God. Born to be the channel through which I could observe the tumult of her eventful active life and earthly events.

I have been able to review in depth the current conflict and pain, unknown in past centuries, because scientific and technological discoveries, and the decline of moral and conventional values have led to currently highly stressful living conditions and towards new ways of relating. with each other.

Through the channel of this sensitive mind, the modern human condition has, to some extent, become subjective to me. Without this knowledge of human experience, these LETTERS could not have been written in any way to help, as is my intention, the human condition in these times. The process of partial eclipsing began before his birth, and continued into his youth and life.

Starting with a thorough deprogramming of your mind and a total purification of old concepts. My channel has been deliberately subjected to all types of human experiences, witnessing the struggles and sorrows that modern life entails. With my instruction, he has emerged from his various holes of affliction, culminating in the death of his ego, and mental/emotional captivity to materialism. She is learning how to enter the frequencies of consciousness of UNIVERSAL LOVE and has had personal experience of the reality of UNIVERSAL CONSCIOUSNESS, and has thus been purified enough to receive my teachings more and more clearly and to distribute them throughout the world. Under my influence he has withdrawn from social life into isolation and solitude and has ultimately come to depend on me for his daily will to live and to work through his total availability to receive my words. minute after minute, as long as the cosmic energies and your personal consciousness allow you to hear and receive me. I trust in your honesty and dedication to expect to hear me accurately and I let you know clearly when I am the one speaking. Until I spoke, she was unable to write. I have told you this so that you can understand what the energies of CHRIST CONSCIOUSNESS have been that have given shape to these LETTERS. I have come again in this LETTER, to tie together all the loose ends of my other EIGHT LETTERS and to present them WITHIN A WORLDWIDE CONTEXT, showing how these teachings are relevant to every aspect of your earthly lives and to all nations. The intention of these LETTERS is to be the impetus, the incentive for a personal opening of the mind and heart towards your SOURCE of BEING and in the end to become the means to achieve your perfect understanding of the effects of thought and behavior. individually and en masse in every facet of your earthly existence. In the past, the laws given for national behavior have been directed to: "You must not...../if you do...../this will be the punishment." But the true Spiritual Laws are entirely different. They express themselves this way, because you and your place in earthly existence have been created this way. If you work in harmony with the laws of your existence, you will open the entire system of your souls, minds, emotions, bodies and personal circumstances to the constant influx of Divine Consciousness, your Life Force. The fruits of your disciplined behavior will once again bless you and charge you with health, harmony and prosperity. If, on the other hand, you ignore the Laws of Existence and continue living as before receiving this message, then your lives will continue to be repeatedly interrupted by disorder, difficult weather conditions, pests in your crops, economic disasters, famines and stressful lives. .

I have spoken through these letters expressly to allow you the ability to achieve true and constant peace of mind, spiritual love, joy and inner healing of the mind, emotions and body.

You must have already understood that this was also the only purpose behind my last Mission for the people on earth, to show them how they themselves created their own misfortunes.

You have been taught by the "Christian" churches that you, who have been created by God, must worship and please God by keeping his Laws. But this is not the truth. Worshiping God is a pagan rite. When people worship "God", they make Him distant and above them, "unattainable and feared", because they think what curse he could send to the earth, if people do not act according to his will.

But that was not the message I brought to earth. I spoke of the Father who satisfied all needs, who responded to being called, who healed when asked, who was as transcendent to people as he was within them. That is, the CREATOR is universal.

The Jewish religion taught that only the high priests could approach the Holy Santorum and make supplications on behalf of the people. The people could approach Jehovah only through the priests bringing birds and animals that were offered as burnt sacrifices to appease Jehovah for the sins of the people. Through this, the Jews obtained forgiveness of sins.

I taught the people repeatedly that they would receive forgiveness of sins from the FATHER according to the people's willingness to forgive others, since it would be done to them according to their own sowing. I also taught the people that if they approached the FATHER directly and prayed in simple terms for whatever they needed in life, I assured them that they would be heard and their prayers answered, on the condition that they would pray with complete faith, without any doubt in the mind. You must understand that everything I taught the Jews was in conflict and direct opposition to what their religious elders taught them, which is the reason why the priests hated me and crucified me, since I was stealing their relevant prominent positions. as personal bodyguards of the Almighty.

Fearing reprisals after my death, the disciples did not completely break with the Old Testament. That is why much of the thought of the Old Testament was passed on to the Christian religion. The animals were replaced by the body and blood of Jesus, to be the sacrifice offered by the priests on the altar. After many years and with Rome being the protector of the "Christian" religion, like the Jewish priests before them, the Roman priests dressed in expensive vestments and used silver and gold accessories in their religious ceremonies.

In Paul's time, this would have been unthinkable. His was a simple message of salvation through my death on the cross, which was not the message I brought to my compatriots in Palestine. He was perpetuating a Jewish tradition by sacrificing another to pay for one's own sin. What shameful cowardice! However, Paul performed a great service for Humanity, by starting a movement, which would be the means of blessing all races equally. He outlined a mode of thought and daily conduct that would bring harmony to the lives of those who sought to live by his teachings.

It is very likely that some traditionalist Jews will again, vociferously, reject my words out loud for the second time. You will be offended by my continued allusion to the ancient Jewish practice of sacrificing animals and birds in the Temple to please God and obtain forgiveness of sins, but whatever your protests, the historical fact remains that the Temple was a place of offering burnt sacrifices and the smell of it was noticeable throughout Jerusalem. I knew all along, that the entire Temple building was dedicated to a myth, a figment of man's imagination, a rationalization of what man's mind could not spiritually comprehend.

I was there!. I felt the hot stones under the sandals on my feet and the sun on my head. I argued with the Pharisees. I endured their laughter and mockery with my delight and watched them dogmatically teach a burdensome way of life of continuous obedience to worthless traditions, in relation to eating and drinking that were totally unnecessary!

I was there!. Sometimes my joy kindled a spark of mischief in my mind and I gave the Pharisees the same analytical mockery for their personal habits, their ostentatious clothing and their laws as they used me and my teachings. He's an idiot! They said, and loudly ridiculed my statement, the KINGDOM OF GOD is within you! Tell us how GOD can be inside a person! They shouted mockingly.

Using a barrage of disparaging arguments, they named the prophets and compared their concepts of the powerful Jehovah with my descriptions of the simple FATHER who even cared about the birds.

“How could I do that?” They insisted, when the birds were regularly sacrificed in the temple to pay for the sins of men!

Would Moses have instituted such a sacred practice of fire sacrifices, of birds and beasts, if they had any importance in the eyes of the Almighty? I stood impassively as they launched their verbal attacks on me. They had only the conviction of Jewish tradition to support their claims, while my mind had been imbued with the true knowledge of existence itself, during my enlightened experiences in the desert. I had been given the understanding of the universality and creative GOOD WILL of the FATHER that enabled me to perceive and do things that no High Priest or Pharisee or Sadducee or scribe could ever do.

Because he understood the nature of our SOURCE OF BEING he could confidently lay hands on a crippled man and grant him full health again. Who could measure this knowledge against the ridiculous traditional laws of the priests? The priests, the Pharisees and all the rest of the religious mumbo-jumbo knew that none of them could do such things and for this reason they hated me for challenging their authority. They hated me for my strength in the face of their opposition and reviled me for attracting crowds when I performed some miracle that no one could deny.

There it was, in broad daylight and in plain sight of everyone, an act of love that the Pharisees assured that only God could do and therefore I should be the son of Satan! And furthermore, they did not see healing as an act of love, but rather as an inexplicable blasphemous usurpation of God's role. They accused me of boasting about my magical powers but they could not tell me how I had acquired such magical powers and therefore decided that I must be a son of Beelzebub.

Now that I have explained the situation, it should be as clear to you reading these words as it was crystal clear to me at that time in Palestine that the entire hierarchy of Judaism was composed of arrogant, self-centered, confused men who lived solely by rules. and laws. When challenged to use their minds, their brains, they could not cope by falling into highly emotional spasms of outrageous anger. It was surprising, why did I remain calm and refuse to communicate with such obtuse minds?

Yes, I was really there in Palestine 2000 years ago. I lived among simple men and women, who had been taught to truly fear Jehovah, and who were obsessed with paying sacrifices at the stake to protect themselves from punishment for their sins. I was raised, indoctrinated in the fear of Jehovah, but I was born to awaken the Jews from their long sleep of myth and fallacies to free them from their burdensome history of wars and bloodshed, brawls and arguments, in which a head was demanded. For the loss of an eye, of hidden and secret sin that did not matter to anyone if no one found out. If he was discovered, then the full weight of the Mosaic law fell upon his head without compassion or mercy, not even a wavering thought for the true circumstances surrounding the transgression.

Because he had been born with the mission of opening the minds and hearts of the Jews to the Reality that had given them life and being, even from an early age, he rejected the Judaic teachings. Some secret depth of my spiritual instinct was rebelling against the ancient Jewish intention of letting another living being bear the responsibility and pay the price for its own rebellion and sin. Even more than that, he could not accept that a God who supposedly created the wonderful world would rejoice in the sacrifices of that which was of his own creation, for which he had provided abundantly. It was impossible for me to have respect for such illogical beliefs and practices. After my enlightenment in the desert I became passionate in my rejection of Jewish traditions.

Just as I came in a human body 2,000 years ago to rescue the Jewish nation from a man-made edifice of burdensome artificial religious practices, so I have come through the Channel of these LETTERS, distributed throughout the world, to make it absolutely clear that The Christian religion in no way reflects my true CHRIST message, neither as I taught it in Palestine, nor in this current moment when the LETTERS will awaken the fury and condemnation of Orthodox Christians.

The Christian religion as it is presently professed is simply a jumble of confused thinking from my disciples' selective recollections of Paul's meritorious homilies and other early writings. Much later, when the impact of Christianity lacked the visual effect of the gods and goddesses of the Romans, the Christian religion adorned itself with theatrical but convenient nonsense to impress those whom the Ecclesiastical Roman Empire wished to attract into its fold. This empire later imposed monetary charges on gullible people, even more iniquitous than the taxes levied by the secular Roman Empire on conquered nations. Not even Caesar demanded payment for souls to gain entry into heaven!

You may wonder why I am so explicit in my rejection of Judaism and Christianity. It is vital to the successful distribution of my CHRIST MESSAGE that people understand the true nature of the religions that have held people in their clutches until the 20th century. Until they realize the mythical bases on which Once all their convictions have been built, it will be difficult for people to let go of their deep-rooted beliefs.

Please understand that when I make such statements I am referring to the Christian Religion. To the principles of faith, dogma and theology. I am not referring to those great spiritual souls who have sought and continue to seek

God and Truth, beyond dogma and beliefs. Many of these have received my inspiration in their minds and hearts, but are afraid to let go of their fervent beliefs. They are hampered by religious practices. The time has come for them to get rid of them. May they grow in spirituality and understanding of their true SOURCE of BEING and may they take their congregations with them.

To the Christian churches of all denominations, Awake! The time has come to move and act, after a long inappropriate sleep, when reason has been repressed by hypnotic and emotional traditions. These have been handed down through the centuries by a succession of people who claim to be the highest authority for anything I taught in Palestine.' Don't be afraid of the consequences. If you examine your past beliefs and if you want to clean them in your thinking, get rid of the cobwebs of deception and THINK! When Christian ministers fully accept that I the CHRIST have truly returned to speak to people all over the world, "like lightning from the east to the west" and are willing to teach my true message from the pulpit, they will see that the churches They will be filled again with people eager to find contact with Reality, which will direct them to live in total harmony with their TRUTH of BEING. If not, you ministers of religion, who willfully and egocentrically continue to teach the dogma of Christianity to save "appearances" and your salaries, will see your religion die a natural death during the next 30 years and you will be abandoned by your congregations that are already feeling that your words are simply words, in which there is no there is spiritual life. You will see your churches taken over by those who have realized that I Myself have truly returned to humanity to show them the way to find and enter the KINGDOM of HEAVEN. There will also be those whose positions of authority will be threatened by these Letters from Christ - by me. They will be powerfully opposed. There will be vilification of all kinds, through all kinds of media, from unscrupulous people who provoke people's anger to make money, to destructive and vindictive sensationalism.

I have to tell you that the bigger the global uproar, the faster my LETTERS will reach or convince those people who are fed up with old beliefs, who have finally heard the simple TRUTH of BEING. You will quickly respond to your love and call to leave the lower levels of human consciousness and begin your ascension to higher spiritual levels, where you will begin to experience the first influx of peace and inner contentment.

There will be conflicts throughout the entertainment industry, as more and more people will recognize and turn against the violence and degradation with which the entire consciousness of your mind, emotions and body, has been fed by DEGENERATES obsessed with make a fortune These morbid people of the spirit have understood the strange fascination with the impious and the macabre of ignorant people, who have been so satiated with the security, comfort and luxury of the 20th century that they no longer find happiness in it. They need emotions to stimulate their jaded conscience.

If people's lives were as horrible as they are presented in the spectacle they see every day, they would look back from their screens in search of something more beautiful and peaceful to rest their tortured nervous systems. However, if you honestly reflect on the conditions of your current lives, you will realize that they are already becoming a mirror of everything that the entertainment industry has provided you in the last 50 years. People have been fed worst-case scenarios by the sensationalism of film, television, books and the media, and now complain that the previous sense of security they once enjoyed has been stolen from them. I see you on earth currently protected in your homes, behind electric fences, high walls of spiked bars, guarded by bodyguards who betray and murder the people in their care. I see men and women who previously walked the streets and roads at night without fear, now locked behind security doors, fearful of the most despicable and brutal attacks. I see races traumatized by their own people. I see genocides, revolutions, bombings, murders, senseless massacres of all kinds. The murders move on to their next existence still traumatized by the shock of their unexpected passing. I see you and administer to you, if you are able to see me and receive me. Many, many people are far from being ready to advance to a higher form of existence and remain in the shadows until they are liberated through reincarnation. Earthly life has become the hell that you represent on the screen and in your literature. Why? Because your so-called "civilized culture" allows brutality in all its perverted forms to enter your homes through TV, for your stimulation and excitement. You have wanted it, and now you have it in real form within your daily experiences. No one is immune from these disasters that you have caused yourselves.

Is it any wonder why I, the CHRIST, have returned to you in these moments, to explain to you what you have caused?

How would it be possible for any spiritual body of LOVE to stay away from such agony of the spirit, and not come forward to render help, when help is possible? Therefore, as I told you before, I am not alone in my Work. I speak for all Masters as I speak through these LETTERS. Each Master is administering those who follow his earthly teachings. Each Master is calling upon his followers who read this to heed, to pray that they may absorb the TRUTH within these pages and to strive to purify their thoughts and actions by becoming love personified for all.

But these letters will set in motion a time of change.

When people truly wake up to what has been done to their conscience around the world by unscrupulous greedy and degenerate tycoons, they will experience extreme anger. The public will begin to recognize the insidious and twisted ways in which they have been gradually enticed into the webs of the abomination.

And I, the Christ, must tell you that, when this happens, you will no longer find the word abomination outdated and outdated. You will clearly perceive the difference between the life-giving word forms of healthy consciousness and the destructive patterns of consciousness. You are going to reveal yourselves and each country will call destructive forms of consciousness an abomination.

Truly loving and conscientious parents will be especially critical of the current form of entertainment and will prevent their children from continuing to see the decay of the unpleasant emotional language, unbridled violence, emotionally superficial and promiscuous sex, currently offered on your screens, in books and in the media. Our society is plagued by these low and despicable creations of consciousness, which are then realized in human lives and actions.

Parents will also come to realize that the Forms of Consciousness created in the minds of their children are the increasingly broad basis of their children's future lives as adults. They must begin to investigate the ETHICAL VALUES that are taught in schools. Parents will no longer worry about religion being taught in schools, since this will be of interest only to a minority, but they will take a serious interest in the type of philosophies of life and the attitudes, arguments, conflicts, claims supported. or tolerated in the schools of the future, both by teachers and students.

Groups will be formed to start small schools based on these LETTERS, since the old material based on objective data will be abandoned as obsolete. Emphasis will be placed on languages, the arts, logic, the art of effective inspired communication, the development of creative and constructive imagination, mathematics and science, and manual skills. The curriculum will focus on developing an ability to differentiate between truth and myth, to be able to clearly perceive the highest values that should be embraced and appreciated, and the most productive and constructive way to put them to use in life, to improve the conditions of oneself, the nation and the world in general. You will also be taught how to become proficient in those sciences and manual skills that will enable you to work happily and successfully within your chosen field of endeavor. Children will be taught within a new aura of interest and love and will be shown how to contribute to such interest and affection in the classroom. They will be encouraged to work with joy and happiness. If this does not come easily, the unhappy child will be shown how joy and happiness can be achieved and will be rewarded when he succeeds.

People will be judged on their commitment to the pursuit of higher levels of spiritual thought and their dedication to serving the interests of the disadvantaged and communities at large.

It is a matter of extreme urgency that people around the world recognize that the truth is that you have been born to individualize and express the universal source of your being in an evolved manner that will ultimately reach the pinnacle of individualized manifestation of the source of your being. be.

THE CHRIST CONSCIOUSNESS

And you have been created to be cared for nourished supplied with all your needs in order to ensure your perfect health, well-being and harmonious prosperity while you are on the path of the individualized reunion of your soul with the source of being the divine consciousness until you grasp jce this truth of being you will never reach your true potential on earth both physically and spiritually no country religious organization nor person no matter how humanly exalted they may be will be able to change the content of these letters since

I THE CHRIST

I am also radiating the TRUTH of the BEING throughout the world to all those who are at the level of spiritual frequencies with the capacity to receive the TRUTH. Such people will receive it, venerate it and adopt it without reservation, as it is their own orientation for their thoughts and actions.

If there are some who cannot understand or receive the LETTERS, it will be only because they are not yet ascended to the necessary level of consciousness to be able to identify with them. Your growth will come later.

Therefore I say to those who have not yet experienced the quality of life that I have described as yours, by Divine Will, do not ask yourself what is happening to life or to people or to circumstances or to you.

Look within your own thought processes at your own attitudes towards life, feelings towards others and towards yourself and find out what kind of thoughts and expectations you normally have. They create a force of powerfully creative consciousness energy that you are emitting throughout the day. They will attract to you exactly what you fear and hope for. Sometimes the negative form of creative consciousness is deeply anchored in your subconscious, planted there many years ago due to certain circumstances. Or the negative impulse of creative consciousness may have come from a previous life. In any case, if you have been constantly subject to bad experiences, examine the inner state of your consciousness, and find out what kind of negative expectations your subconscious has. Also discover what your attitudes and feelings are towards others.

Do you constantly live in harmony with the Laws of Existence? Do you express unconditional love at every level of your life, toward every thing in your experience? Are you able to see the light of the soul within all living things? Or do you only see his egocentric impulse, his darkness? Do you realize that to people whom you may reject or criticize, I, the CHRIST, have the highest love and compassion for them at all times? To those you may be rejecting, I am radiating my unconditional love.

Keep in mind at all times that your SOURCE of BEING is in two states:

Activity and Balance

The ACTIVE state of the SOURCE of BEING is the dimension in which you have been conceived and in which you have been granted individualization.

THE BALANCE of UNIVERSAL CONSCIOUSNESS is the dimension of perfect silence and stillness, in which the underlying IMPULSES OF CREATIVITY are united in an embrace of mutual control.

When you realize, accept, fully understand that in every learning session in your school on earth, you always have access to the Divine loving Intelligence that solves every problem perfectly, then you are being elevated beyond the reach of panic and pain. .

Solve your problems quickly and smoothly and you find that your own reserve of wisdom and knowledge is increasing in many ways. In this way you evolve at every level of your being.

Although my purpose in coming to you, through the channel of these LETTERS, has been to show you the way to live in harmony with the LAWS of EXISTENCE, to help you avoid unnecessary pain, limitations and deprivations caused by your ignorance of the Laws, I also want to impress upon your consciences that everyone is subject to the rhythms in their lives. Everyone goes through high periods when an influx of blessings brings you all the things you have ever needed and then you are at the peak of human happiness and success. You rejoice! and then the time comes when, suddenly, the pace of life changes, resources dry up, relationships become difficult and precarious, your career takes a downward turn, obstacles occur that keep you standing for a long time. You may wonder what wrong have you done? You previously worked very successfully within the LAWS of EXISTENCE, but now there are daily challenges and nothing you think, or do, truly relieves the stress of your daily life.

When these moments come to you, if they come, be calm and still in your heart and mind and know that you continue to draw life and direction from DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS, despite appearances to the contrary, despite the superficial agonies. At these times it is essential to withdraw and evaluate the ways in which you may have slipped in consciousness during high moments and strengthen your dependence on DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS. Without these dark periods of depression, you would not grow in spiritual stature. They have a special message for you, so don't give in to despair or bitterness. Although you may feel fragile, this is your winter season of self-discovery and inner renewal that will ultimately prove to be a greater blessing than you had in the high periods. Cheer up and don't lose faith. Stand firm, patiently, until winter gradually gives way to your spiritual spring again. Persevere in your attempt to achieve relaxation and with confidence wait for the moment in which the DIVINE LIFE will flow again in your mind, heart and earthly life and everything that you had hoped for will begin to manifest in your experience and during this time realize and maintain firm in the fact that if you are not aware of the influx of DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS during your meditations, it is not because it has been abandoned but because your own cosmic vibrations and therefore your personal consciousness vibrations are in the doldrums and that you are no longer capable of elevating you to experience the vibrations of DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS as before. Even if you don't feel them, be sure that you are always involved in them and within DIVINE LOVE.

I also want to remind you and impress upon your consciousness that the moment the poorest of human beings can understand the true nature of their origins, and can use knowledge, they will begin to break out of their stagnation and then they will be able to rise to any height. that you choose for yourself on the condition that you daily tune into the SOURCE of your

BEING and draw out ITS infinite Power, Life, Direction, Inspiration and Guidance.

You are not victims of destiny, you are victims of your own creative consciousness, until you realize that your consciousness is totally shaped by you. When this glorious Truth awakens in your own consciousness you will begin to turn your lives around and in the end you will discover that you can work towards becoming a Master and achieving complete freedom within DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS.

Try to remember that in your spiritual quest, your goal should be to keep the frequencies of your consciousness as steady as possible, within your highest spiritual perceptions. This is very difficult for the human mind, as it eagerly seeks new forms of spiritual/mental stimulation where its interest is piqued.

But I have to tell you that it is not enough to read these LETTERS and then go to other books hoping to find some more inspired, higher truth. I, THE CHRIST, truly tell you that there is no higher truth or higher path that is offered to you at this moment. Perhaps, at times, you feel that you have found something higher, because at the level of your current human consciousness, you can relate what is written more easily, but be sure that the TRUTH of SPIRITUAL EXISTENCE is the only knowledge that you It will ultimately lead to CHRIST CONSCIOUSNESS which is your true destiny and no other.

The CHRIST CONSCIOUSNESS is the spiritual consciousness of all the Great Masters. There is none higher. To increase your understanding you can look for those authors who have already found for themselves and are putting into practice what is written in these LETTERS, but do not follow those who still follow other authors and cite other authorities and who are still searching for a way. through human thought towards the immensity of SPIRITUAL TRUTH, beyond human thought. They, like yourselves, are still in the foothills of consciousness, they have not yet penetrated the mental/emotional ozone that brings them closer to the limits of SPACE.

Do not follow those who love to write about the wonders of occult practices and who are seeking to direct you to experience them as well, who advocate the use of material substances to increase energy in the various areas of their lives. The use of material substances such as crystals, candles, incense, and incense sticks focuses your human consciousness on those things that have human meaning for you and that give you pleasure. In this way your human consciousness is anchored in the most fixed levels. While if you want to ascend and enter the true spiritual dimensions of consciousness, your goal is to penetrate and then transcend the dimension of earthly human consciousness. The only real energy, the truly dynamic healing life force, comes from your constant contact with DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS. As you walk upward, you will become aware of the finer vibrations of the astral planes, but do not dwell on these levels, for they are only manifestations of higher physical forms of consciousness and should not be your true goal.

Harmonization with Divine Consciousness and total self-mastery must be your reason for living and your only goal. When you have achieved it, everything you have ever wanted will be yours in a new transcendent and eternal way.

You may read these LETTERS and decide that you want to continue as you are in your ego-consciousness, trusting that DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS will help you through the difficult patches. But I can tell you that life itself will eventually convince you that any other path does not provide the compensations that your soul, which is hidden and silent, waiting for its liberation, longs to experience especially that of full reunion with DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS.

The greatest gift that you can give to yourself, or to anyone else, is to gratefully accept into your own mind and to seek to imbue in other receptive minds the full inspired understanding of who “you” and “they” really are, and what can truly be fulfilled when “you and them” abandon your own will and look towards the SOURCE of your BEING, to obtain help, guidance and the satisfaction of all your needs. MAKE LIGHT for yourself and for anyone who can receive it.

At the same time no one can absorb learning on an empty stomach. Therefore a certain amount of physical nutrition must be taken to assist in the process of physical-spiritual evolutionary development, if you are seeking to teach the materially impoverished. Be willing to give to others and know that by giving you become part of the system of giving and receiving of the entire universe.

It is impossible to give and not receive, unless you yourself believe that you live only from the supply of your work, your bank account and your investments. When you believe this, then this is what you experience.

Until people truly wake up and open their eyes to the full realization that they are the individualization of the SOURCE of their BEING, which is a combination of the PERFECT IMPULSES OF CREATIVITY AND LOVE, they will not stop being attracted to the seductions of materialism, the satisfaction of bodily desires and the desire for self-promotion above all others, ranging from takeovers and strikes in business and industry and gross discord in relationships, to murders, rapes and wars. Where one person exerts his ego on another, discord abounds.

This is the very first LAW OF EXISTENCE that must be published throughout the world.

How then should human nature struggle daily to live in a world that is, by nature, dominated by the egocentric impulse and the overwhelming desire for self-satisfaction?

THE ANSWER IS IN MY STATEMENT: “DO TOWARDS OTHERS WHAT YOU WISH THEM TO DO TO YOU.”

This is the first step in overcoming the egocentric impulse.

When you are involved in an argument, let full justice be given from each to the other! Listen - absorb - pay attention - apologize as much as possible.

Make sure that your demands do not interfere with the well-being of the other, whether personal, pleasure, business, or industry.

Remember that how you behave with others, so in the end you will receive. Remember that your thoughts, words and actions today will take shape in your experience in days, months or years to come. Sometimes the sowing will take years to become a harvest and the sowing will have been forgotten. However, you can be sure that what is done today will come back in some way, although perhaps you will never recognize it as such or perceive the relationship.

What you want people to say about your mistakes, say it honestly about the mistakes that others may make, whether friends or strangers. Give the acceptance and forgiveness you would like to receive. What is true forgiveness? It is a state of understanding towards the other and the reasons for their behavior, so clear that you can say with all honesty that there is nothing to forgive.

The loyalty, kindness and generosity that you would like to receive when you are in trouble, give to others when they are struggling with heavy burdens, never pass you by.

Learn to look at people, or situations with a look of kind discernment. See them as they are in that moment and then remember that I see them with compassionate love.

If you see a true need for improvement in them, for their own good and to enhance their future well-being, just look at them with eyes and heart full of love and see them as they can be in the future. Take them in thought to their SOURCE of BEING and know without a doubt that your prayer has blessed them and has opened the doors of their development. Seek guidance from DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS if you can improve the matter of their development and ask what can be asked to ensure that they are willing to happily accept the advice and ultimate success of personal development.

If someone wants to tell you how you have hurt them at some point, stand or sit or still, and know that this is a real challenge to your egocentric impulse. This is your big moment, your biggest test.

How will you treat it? Will you excuse yourself by defending yourself, thinking, even saying that your actions should not have hurt the other person and were fully justified under the circumstances? If this is how you respond, then your egocentric impulse still governs your consciousness.

However, if you can realize that the great moment of truth has arrived and, because of this realization, you are able to remain silent and calm, listening to the other's description of his injury because of you, you are achieving the first success. in overcoming the ego.

The next urgent step is to set aside your own need to defend yourself and to sincerely identify with what the speaker is saying. You can do this sincerely only if you can be humble enough to enter a place of inner silence, where you can fully in their pain, hear what is being said, and receive the pain into your heart. If you can do this, you will have gotten under their skin. When you are in their shoes and feel their pain, you will want to apologize from the bottom of your heart for what you have done. The pain that you inflicted, unknowingly and unconsciously, will become your own pain and will not rest until you have managed, through loving words, to remove all residue of pain from the consciousness of the other, then you will have healed the wound and it will be eliminated as well. of your electromagnetic consciousness system, you will have won a great victory over yourself. You will have reached that point of strength and inner resistance, when you can truly perceive the reality of others as being of equal validity to your own. You have recognized and accepted that your actions may hurt others in the same way that they have hurt you.

After reaching this great moment of truth in your life you will find that you are able to move among others comfortably, able to see events from their perspective as easily as from your own. A great balance between the needs of others and your own is achieved, and you enter a state of peace, for you now have the confidence to treat others fairly and with generosity of spirit. You have already begun to remove the barriers between you and others and receive them into your heart.

You have also begun to remove your own defenses and because of this you will find that you are finally achieving self-esteem and peace of mind.

This new understanding of the feelings of others will inspire you with great respect for them, you will always want to treat them fairly, giving them due respect, never taking advantage of their good character, never wanting to humiliate them, reduce their self-esteem, always willing to encourage them and pick them up when they are in pain. physically or emotionally.

You'll also find yourself doing these things for yourself. You will become your own advisor, your own supporter, your own healer.

You will see each person, whatever their social status, as a basic reality just like your own and you will see that you are the same as everyone else, whether king, dad or president, because underneath the external, you both have come from the GREAT UNITY of BEING.

Therefore you will no longer feel inadequate in any situation. Because you have advanced in the strength and wisdom taken from DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS, and you recognize that you too have equal rights with everyone else. Quietly and calmly, you will not allow others to take advantage of you. You will have the ability to speak clearly, to express yourself clearly and honestly with due regard for the other person's feelings. You no longer want to denigrate another, nor reduce their self-esteem. Rather, you will do everything possible to save their self-respect, however by relating your truth clearly and lovingly.

Remember, when you affirm your truth to another, it is not their business to tell them how they should act in any given circumstance, nor how they should react to your words.

However, adhering to the UNIVERSAL VALUES of perfect honesty, conscientious work, good will towards all and care for the disadvantaged, a person has the right to demand that these values should take precedence over all other considerations of convenience within a group or community, company or national effort.

You also have a perfect right to say how you feel about a person's humiliating behavior towards you, if you feel the need to do so. Your loving honesty may be necessary to resolve or clarify a certain situation for the good of all.

Express your opinion kindly, tell them gently how you feel in the current unpleasant circumstances, and explain what has made you feel that way. Don't say you did such a thing! , because he will feel that you are blaming him and you will immediately awaken the other's self-defense mechanism and therefore the confrontation will become difficult and unpleasant for both of you. To reach ego-driven people you have to continually talk in such a way that they will never feel threatened. This is the art of loving communication and it is learned only through trial and error and constant practice.

Every time you master the ego in yourself, it becomes a little easier to relate to others, because you are gaining an understanding of the function of the ego in all people. With the passage of time and gradually, you are freeing yourself from the clutches of the egocentric impulse. You will see that you can listen to others better and better with empathy in your soul and love. If they behave in a way that would have previously hurt or offended you, you will instead feel laughter welling up in you.

Then you will know that your soul is in direct contact with DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS because its natural state is that of laughter.

Laughter is an impulse of consciousness that whispers through your skies, from one planet to another, through your Milky Way Galaxy and outward to the farthest reaches of infinity. As infinite as DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS, laughter began to exist at the moment of the Big Bang.

What is laughter? It is a spontaneous response of consciousness to a situation in which two events, or two incidents, or two people, in the natural order of things, should not be together but they are and in a strange way, in disagreement, or in opposition the one with the other.

It is an undulating effect experienced by all living things of the highest species that are capable of certain judgments or perceptions. Eliminate stress. The undulating effect is felt on the diaphragm that "guards" the heart and nervous system.

As you have seen in examining the nature of creation, everything possible has been done in the evolution of the design and growth of living bodies to make a body perfectly adapted and suited to the environment, so that the occupant of the body will be comfortable and happy to live without stress. Stress is adverse to health.

It is contrary to the will of DIVINE CONSCIENCE.

A spontaneous laugh is first experienced as a sudden whisper of consciousness in the head, which produces a sensation of lightness in the entire consciousness. This immediately produces a chain reaction of laughter, which is perceived as a light flutter of breath over the diaphragm to break any tension and relieve any residual bitterness. Sometimes laughter, in an extremely funny situation, continues to such an extent that the person is finally exhausted, but also happy and somewhat sad that the laughter is over.

Most people will testify that laughter promotes a sense of well-being, even if there was discord a minute before. If a person can laugh sincerely, see the absurdity of a situation, where they would have previously been angry or hurt, tension is released and friendly relations are spontaneously restored. Laughter is a gift of love for a creation that is possessed by egos and in need of relief.

As the egocentric impulse gradually takes hold in the mind and emotions, you will see laughter bubbling up spontaneously and bringing a wonderful feeling of liberation. The undulating effect of laughter raises the vibratory frequencies of your consciousness, not simply because it is energy released where you need it most, over your heart, over your diaphragm - the seat of emotions - but because laughter is directly from DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS.

Therefore, laughter is DIVINE.

LAUGHTER and your inner child. As you read these unpublished LETTERS and the levels of vibrational frequencies of your consciousness rise, you will discover that old mental patterns are no longer comfortable in your mind. You will look for ways and means to expel them from your consciousness. As you ascend spiritually and become more and more eager to discharge unwanted egocentric human impulses, the conflicts in your sensibilities will become heavier and heavier, and you will now yearn and ask for relief. You will find that when you return to Divine Consciousness and passionately ask for Divine Help, help will certainly come. You will successfully get rid of unwanted thoughts and reactions and then discover that laughter becomes more and more spontaneous. You will also discover that tensions will dissolve and that you become lighter in thought, easier in relationships, more affectionate, much more grateful, more awake to life itself and all that it has to offer in sight and in experience. You will enjoy small pleasures more, you will be less fed up with appetites. You will need less food, less entertainment. You will be happier in your own company and eventually you will begin to rejoice in your own company because DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS will be infusing your human consciousness with ITS own exalted state of well-being.

Little by little, you will be returning to your condition as a "Child" who sees the world with a happy look. This is not senility. It is a state of greater understanding and vividness whatever your age.

This is the "state of being" that I wanted to express when I said: "if you do not become like a child again, you will not enter the Kingdom of Heaven." I actually said, "when you enter the kingdom of heaven you become like a child, a child filled with wonder and joy."

I have given these LETTERS to the world so that those who read and absorb them may ultimately enter the KINGDOM of HEAVEN and reach that state of joy that comes from purity of mind and innocence.

SPIRITUAL EXERCISES:

If people tell you to do spiritual exercises and imagine certain conditions, be sure that if you follow these instructions you will simply remain rooted in the material dimension of the ego. Imagination has nothing to do with the spirit. Imagination is the exercise of your own human consciousness which you should be seeking to transcend by entering the highest spiritual consciousness. These levels are not those of imagination but those of Reality, normal spiritual levels of vibratory frequencies of spiritual consciousness. The spiritual frequencies are those of the Divine Spiritual Consciousness and not those of the earthly mental imagination. Therefore be careful who you accept as a teacher.

Only the absolute “stillness and silence” of your consciousness will open the door to the entrance of the Divine Consciousness into your mind and that is what everyone should be looking for. If you are thirsty and need to drink, why do you imagine that you are on the shore of a lake? Go to the lake itself and drink from the pure refreshing water. Again I say, imagination is not spiritual, it is the exercise of your will within your current level of consciousness.

THE RACISM.

For those of you who have come to understand the truth about who you really are, I want to speak to the global concern regarding racism.

I want you to know that these comments about racism arise solely from the egocentric impulse of those people who have felt despised and rejected because of racial differences. These feelings are so deeply rooted in the “I” that no matter how circumstances may change for them, and they may progress in life, even becoming characters of great importance on the world stage of life, there is always the feeling of ineptitude and resentment against the people who first made them feel inferior.

It must be understood that such feelings of inferiority are not unique to the black races. These feelings of extreme humility are experienced by most people who are subject to the caste system in India, class distinctions in European culture and in those countries where differences become mountains of separation between one person and another. These painful and humiliating feelings of being lesser are being experienced, even by so-called exalted people, who are never completely comfortable in their positions of authority.

This sense of incompetence and worthlessness is endemic to the entire human race, regardless of the position, race or education an individual may have.

The feeling of worthlessness arises largely from the very, very deep understanding of the psyche that self-centered behavior is contrary to the highest principles of human existence. When this natural built-in impulse of worthlessness is reinforced by proximity to others who are apparently more prestigious or successful, then this natural sense of inadequacy takes on agonizing connotations.

The only way to overcome the painful feelings of ethnic rejection, even if one is very successful, is to come to the clear realization that if there had not been the kind of ethnic riots, displacements, the arrival of outsiders and strangers with their various languages, cultures, educational processes and the submission of their natural states and ways of life, the different races would no longer occupy the positions of responsibility and the world status that some have achieved at the current time.

Therefore, the only healing and life-renewing measure to follow is to meditate, ponder, reflect and ask for DIVINE LIGHT on the subject, until you can, with all honesty, say: "Lord, I am sincerely content and happy to that all those terrible events occurred. Because of them, I am where I am today. Because of them I have been given the opportunity to test and experience the extent of my endurance, intellect, emotions, talents. I can measure myself against the achievements of other races and perhaps continue to learn how to rise even further from my beginnings. I have and thank you for the strength and inspiration to show my basic equality with everyone else. I send my thoughts of love and gratitude to those who laid the foundation for my current well-being so many, many years ago." You can also reflect on the fact that it was inevitable, according to the Laws of Existence, that those who had a connection with drug trafficking slaves and other tragic events, or who were responsible for causing pain and torture in other human beings, were to return in a future life as members of the oppressed races and suffer gravely. Being born into the black races, it is more than likely that those people were vocal in their demands for equality and humane treatment of black people. Such a person may even have been your great-grandfather or father and you may wonder why life has treated the poor guy so badly. On the other hand, white people who handcuffed black people and kept them in dungeons may still be creating chaos for others today, occupying strata of society of all races that are loudly rebelling against the past. It may be a past that they themselves helped create.

IT IS A FACT that people reincarnate in different strata of society and in different races to allow the soul to learn some valuable lesson while traveling upward to CHRIST CONSCIOUSNESS. Keep in mind the fundamental principle of existence. You yourselves create your mornings. You also give to the being whatever you need for your elevation, as the soul ascends towards it. By being conscious, or not of it, by extending yourself in prayer for an improvement in the conditions of your life, you are spontaneously extending the soul towards higher levels of spiritual consciousness.

As I have already told you, the DIVINE WILL is to free Creation from stress, and therefore, those lessons that you need to take you upward towards Divine Consciousness will enter into your experience.

Therefore, FORGIVE, since you have no true knowledge of the journey of your souls through many centuries of earthly existence. You have no knowledge of what you yourselves did in past lives. Forgive the present, forgive the past and accept that much good has come from it. Learn to bless. Call those who you thought harmed you and your ancestors.

And you, who today carry the power of privilege, consider other races and their problems, and reflect on the fact that you, in a future life, can occupy a disadvantaged body and come to know, firsthand in your own skin what it is like to be born with a feeling of being a second-class citizen. Also reflect on your past lives. Think about what you may or may not have done that led to your current situation. The truth about racism is this.

Every entity under the sun has descended from DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS in one way or another. At the very roots of your being, everything is united into ONE.

So where are the differences?

They arise from the development of the species, genes, conditioning, teachings, traditional customs, family and educational habits to relate to others, and from differences in thought patterns.

It is not the color that divides. A little child of any race and color, because of his or her innocence and spontaneity of self-expression, will be accepted into the hearts of most adults. It is the CONSCIOUSNESS that separates you and that is felt at every level of your being, since you are all, despite our materialized bodies, FORMS OF CONSCIOUSNESS expressing patterns of consciousness and FORMS OF CONSCIOUSNESS that receive patterns of consciousness from others. The consciousness of each individual is their reality, not their skin or their physical appearance, and it is people's consciousness that attracts or rejects others.

You can be sure that you will only overcome your feelings of racial differences when your emotional mental thought patterns are in harmony and when your values by which you choose to live daily are the same. Until that time comes, it is useless for people to be angry at each other for experiencing racial differences. They are endemic to the human condition.

If you want another race to accept you, you have to change your values, your perceptions, your ideas, your ways of living and relating to others to become equal to everyone else of that race. Racial differences then die a natural death.

If you are not willing to take the conscience of the race you wish to join, then lovingly recognize, accept and respect the differences in conscience. No one has the right to demand that you ignore differences.

THE MOST IMPORTANT OF ALL. Choose the highest standards the world offers. Act to embrace them and wear them, and then all skin colors will gain a new inner beauty that none of them can resist. All people will then willingly unite in perfect harmony. Physical appearances of all colors will also change and take on a new inner beauty.

When these LETTERS have been distributed throughout the world and groups of people come together to live within the SPIRITUAL LAWS OF EXISTENCE, such groups will find that they are living harmoniously protected lives, although there may be chaos around them.

Everywhere, those who come together to learn how to enter into and live from the integrity of being, which I called the KINGDOM OF HEAVEN 2000 years ago, will undoubtedly discover that their circumstances are changing.

I urge you to meet on Sundays with the themes to talk about your many blessings. Give sincere thanks from the bottom of your heart and raise your minds in praise of the ONE who has given you Being. Meditate together for the realization of DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS, through your minds to the world consciousness, so that the nature of the DIVINE can, each time further, imbue the nature of the world psyche with its own Transcendent Love.

Your groups will emit the energy of spiritual consciousness that will influence the mental energies around you.

I want you to remember that the world was not in such a dangerous predicament when churches throughout the world gathered on Sundays to praise God. Those days are gone. You will no longer praise God.

You will universally build a strong understanding of the present DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS. Its universality and field of creativity will be increasingly firmly established in your minds, through sincere praise. In silence and stillness you will reach out towards the DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS and you will lovingly invite it to take possession of your mind and your heart and thus little by little you will be unified and the divine consciousness will take possession more and more of the world as it was always intended.

THE REENCARNATION

Reincarnation is not random, without having a coherent plan that directs its action. The purpose is to always provide the wandering soul with many totally diverse experiences that will enlarge the soul's hidden store of world knowledge. It provides changes of scenery, necessary family stimulants and surrounding personalities. From characteristics taken from the genes, but always that fine thread of the path of the soul will be hidden in the subconscious mind and will come to light to influence the present incarnation, although the person may be totally unaware of it. It is therefore possible for characteristics, strongly held views or passionate ambitions to be perpetuated from one incarnation to another. Sometimes ambitions are formulated in one life and are only brought to successful manifestation in the next life, under totally different conditions. In such cases, before rebirth a soul must wait until world conditions successfully advance the soul's hidden ambitions. If you can imagine a soul first throwing itself into a red pool and coming out dyed red and entering life as a red person, with all their natural tendencies they will be of the red race and educated in childhood to live a red life. You will understand that the soul leaves that life with much of what it has acquired from its red life in its consciousness. Then it is thrown into a blue pond and it will come out blue with all the characteristics of blue and the lifestyle of blue people. When it leaves the world again, it will have accumulated facets of blue consciousness mixed with the red ones and so life after life the same soul continues growing through the various experiences of colors, religions, social strata, marriages, sexes, countries, policies, until he finally wakes up. The fact that this is what is happening to him and he decides that he is tired of all the combinations of various colors and just wants to ascend towards the light, then he begins his true spiritual path and gradually, as he moves from one life to another, he becomes undone. of the accumulated lives: red, blue, yellow, green, black brown and mauve, until finally freed from all the illusions and false concepts of past lives, your soul takes a step into the light and reincarnation is no longer necessary.

The soul is strong, with creative initiative, but the individuality of the soul remains inviolate and begins to ascend into different levels of spiritual LIGHT, beyond the vibrational frequencies of the world.

As I said in this LETTER, I am with you always, radiating the TRUTH of BEING in consciousness. The more you read these letters, the more you will be aware of my Presence and my Love, and through this contact my loving purposes for you will be fulfilled. Only you can break contact. I am radiating Love, no matter how you feel. I leave my Love with you and long for your rapid walk towards spiritual Light.
