The Wesak Festival

The Esoteric Setting

On an etheric or esoteric level, the festival takes place in the Wesak Valley, somewhere hidden in the Himalayas. It occurs on a subtler plane than the physical, though many feel it spiritually from around the world.

Gathering of the Spiritual Hierarchy

During Wesak, the Masters of Wisdom, Guides of humanity, and Beings of Light (such as the Christ, the Buddha, the Manu, and the Mahachohan) gather to receive and transmit spiritual energy from the Solar Logos through the Buddha.

Descent of the Buddha

The climax of the festival is the brief descent of the Buddha in an etheric body of light over the valley, bringing an outpouring of illumination, wisdom, and divine purpose from high cosmic levels. He speaks no words, but radiates peace and understanding.

The Christ as Intermediary

The Christ, as World Teacher and avatar of love, receives this energy and distributes it to humanity via the Masters and conscious disciples. Thus, the illumination of the Buddha blends with the love of the Christ, becoming a blessing for humanity.

Silent Ceremony

On the etheric level, thousands—Masters, initiates, devas, and disciples—gather in reverent silence, meditating deeply, waiting for the exact full moon moment, when the blessing is poured as a rain of spiritual light and peace.

Purpose and Service

After the event, the energy is distributed among people of goodwill and world servers to strengthen their spiritual work and help advance the Divine Plan on Earth. It is a moment of planetary alignment with the Will of God.

Esoteric Significance

- A spiritual bridge between humanity and higher realms.
- Collaboration between East and West: Buddha embodies wisdom, Christ embodies love.
- Considered the spiritual high point of the year, initiating a new cycle of planetary evolution.
