

THE BIG MOMENT IS NEAR | Message from JESUS - The Glory of I Am

Dear sons and daughters of planet Earth. I am Jesus, and it is with gratitude and joy that I am once again here. Thank you so much for noticing another step Gaia is taking towards her Ascension. This open portal has been a great leap forward in the Gaia experience. There is a point on the planet like a granite, which is external to the planet and attached to the center. This milestone is very close to the perpendicular and is only a few steps away from coinciding with this point, with the process where the light will arrive with its greatest possible intensity.

Do not understand this as a change within the planet's own axis. It is a change in the orbit of the planet in relation to the Central Sun. Let's say Gaia is moving to get to the shortest distance between herself and the Central Sun. Not only Gaia, but also her Galaxy. The entire galaxy, where your planet is contained, is contained within the galaxy of the Central Sun and all of it will receive the intense light as well as each planet, in its own way and according to its own need for growth and evolution. On Earth, the beginning of the process of change of its inhabitants will take place, not of the planet Gaia is already living the fifth dimension. Virtually everything is created in the fifth dimension. Everything is ready to receive you. So, soon the most important process within our vision will begin, which is the Ascension of every inhabitant of this planet. It will not be an easy process. It will not be a process where everyone applauds, where everyone leaves happy. It would be marvelous if, on this Great Day of the awakening of humanity, everyone would open their consciousness, everyone would vibrate the light, everyone would accept evolution in their hearts. It would be a milestone in the Universe, because you would effectively be taking the first step to ascend to the fifth dimension, but unfortunately, and I hope you also have this certainty, not everyone will receive this with glory and joy. There will be crying, despair and anger. It will be a mixture of feelings that will be emanating around your planet, but I would like to remind you of this: that what is in greater volume on your planet are the waters, not the land, and your oceans are already populated by beings with a very high vibration taking care of every animal that exists in its oceans. Everyone is duly accompanied and prepared for the Ascension, so realize that the energy that is vibrating in the oceans is much higher than the energy that vibrates on the Earth, on the surface of the planet, and when I say each being, understand it literally. Every living molecule in the vastness of the oceans is being treated and prepared for Ascension. I cannot say that 100% of the animals will go to the fifth dimension, because many were created and deformed for this dimension in which they live to bring them fear, horror, disgust. So not all animals will go, only those whose origin is from our stellar brothers and are origins of Light.

The animals whose consciousness has been changed to aggression and attack are also being treated and when they evolve to the fifth dimension, they will not carry anything with what they lived here on this planet in the third dimension. So for some time now, immense and extremely fruitful work has been carried out.

We are not starting today, precisely so that the degree of energy necessary to counteract all the negative energy that will be generated on the planet's surface is reached. We don't want to scare anyone, but we can't come here and tell them: "look, everything will be wonderful". It will not be so because the "evil cells" still exist in many inhabitants of the planet. So I would say that such a "separation of the chaff from the wheat" will become intense and more and more clear and crystalline. Let's say that when the planet reaches that critical amount of the shortest distance with the Central Sun, a great mass of energy will arrive and that mass of energy will reach every inhabitant, it does not matter if it is in the air, inside the earth, in the air water Many hide in the depths of the oceans, in the depths of the Earth, in extremely compact shelters, protected against anything, but I say that this energy will not respect obstacles. This energy does not find anything that prevents it from passing, because it is Light, it is the full Love of Father-Mother God, so nothing prevents it from penetrating. Then it is a great illusion and each one will absorb this Light, according to his conscience, according to his heart. Those who have an illuminated heart, this heart will almost explode from so much Light and it will be at that moment when this explosion of Light will dissolve, explode, eliminate any blockage that still exists in your soul. There's no way to avoid it. There is no way to protect yourself and each one will see his truth, each one will feel in his chest everything that his soul has actually left in his existence. So realize that seeing the truth is necessary for everyone to forgive each other. There will be no trial. The truth is not there to be judged, it will come to be understood and forgiven. It will be a great moment of forgiveness. Ask for forgiveness from all those whom the soul has harmed and if that feeling is from the heart, it will set them free, it will bring them the relief they need to continue on the path, because that will be the first step and then they will be ready to continue the journey, another real journey, a journey without blockades where each soul will have everything it ever had. Then the time of consciousness is approaching, the time of truth is approaching and knowing exactly each point of your soul, where you can act in the world. Now the decision of how you will use everything you receive from your soul is your own decision. The lessons will continue to pass. They will not come tomorrow, they will come instantly.

It is up to each of you to stay on the path, using all the power, all the awareness that your souls have to help those who come after. To help his brothers. It will be up to you, evolved soul, to lend a helping hand to those who are arriving for help. So it is a moment, not only of joy. It is a moment of pure awareness and it will be that pure awareness that will take each of you to the Fifth Dimension. There will be no more time for mistakes. There will be no more time to act inappropriately in the attempt to go to the Fifth Dimension. You will have powers in your hands, so use them for the good of ALL, otherwise you will be sealing your fate. So it will not be an easy time, it will not be a time of joy alone, it will be a time of pure awareness where every step you take will raise your vibration and get closer to the Fifth Dimension. But there is no going back. Each false step will be sealing your destiny, so start thinking consciously about everything you want to live, everything you want to practice after the Great Awakening. There is no turning back, there is no way to avoid it, there is only intention and that will define whether or not you stay on that path towards the Fifth Dimension. There is no way back. Each step you take is only forward, so know how to take the right step. Know how to take each step with confidence and with love and nothing will stop you.
